INCIS
Membership

Membership is open to companies, business organizations and affiliated national and regional trading associations who are active in GHG emissions markets worldwide.

Current Members include: Financial institutions, investment banks, investors, international law firms, consultants, traders, brokers, financial and commodity exchanges and other companies serving the greenhouse gas emissions trading market worldwide.

Annual Membership
Fee

All prospective members whose application for membership is approved by the Board shall be required to pay in advance a membership fee. The current membership fee structure per annum is as follows.

- £5,000 or €7,000 unless one of the following conditions applies:
 - £900 or €1,250 for companies with fewer than 10 employees
 - £400 or €550 for not-for-profit or academic institutions

The membership fee is calculated on a calendar year basis and is payable pro rata from the beginning of the quarter immediately proceeding the date of application for Members joining during the course of any year.

For new members, the dues are payable after 3 months from the date of acceptance of the application for membership by the Board.

In-kind contributions that are not of direct benefit to the member will be taken into consideration by the Board on a case by case basis.

All payments of membership fees should be clearly marked INCIS Annual Membership Fees.

Application Process

- 1) Application for membership is submitted to the INCIS Secretariat
- 2) The application is reviewed by the INCIS Board
- 3) Upon approval by the Board, the organization becomes a member of INCIS
